One-Point Advice for Preparing for the Nankai Trough Earthquake

No. 6: What to do when you evacuate

When an earthquake hits, tsunamis and landslides result. Buildings collapse, and fires break out. Please evacuate quickly to a safe location. Walls will collapse, and broken glass and roof tiles will rain down, so be very careful as you evacuate. Check your evacuation route before an earthquake strikes, and make sure you are aware of any danger zones along the way.

Points to remember when leaving your home:

- Unplug all appliances and turn off the circuit breaker.
- Check to make sure whether or not your phone is off the hook.
- Shut off all gas valves.

When you evacuate, remember the following:

- Leave a note on your door saying where you evacuated to.
- Wear long sleeve shirts and pants to protect your body.
- Wear a helmet or disaster-readiness hood to protect your head.
- Wear thick-soled shoes to protect your feet.
- Put any luggage into a backpack in order to keep your hands free.
- Wear gloves to keep your hands safe.
- Don't walk on any narrow streets, near cliffs or near rivers.
- Keep luggage to a bare minimum.
- Tightly hold hands with any children or elderly you are evacuating with.
